

2021 CJPL READING CHALLENGE

TITLES

- A Book with a Family Tree
- A bestseller from the 1990's
- A book about a social justice issue
- A book with a heart, diamond, spade, or club
- Author shares your Zodiac sign
- Dark academia book
- Main character has your dream job
- Book by a Muslim American author
- A dual timeline
- Includes a historical event you know little about
- A flavor in the title
- A book you've been intimidated to read
- Read a fanfic
- Read a fat-positive romance
- A SFF anthology edited by a person of color
- A realistic YA not set in the US, UK, or Canada
- Black own voices YA that isn't about Black pain
- Book set in the Midwest
- Book found on a Black Lives Matter list
- Different format (graphic, ebook, audio)
- A book everyone has read but you
- Ugliest cover you can find
- Book that's been on your TBR list longest
- Protagonist older than 50

2021 CJPL READING CHALLENGE

TITLES

- Translation
- Reread a Favorite
- Crime Novel or Thriller by female author
- YA novel by a Latinx author
- 2020 Goodreads winner
- By an author who uses initials
- Recommended by a colleague
- Bestselling memoir
- About an immigrant
- Borrowed from the library
- Recommended by a librarian
- Mystery novel by an indigenous/Native author
- YA book by an indigenous/Native author
- Native Youth Award winning title
- Book about sisters
- Book turned into movie/TV show
- Have a friend choose your next book
- Read a book with a child
- Holiday Book
- Short Story
- Novel in verse
- A book in public domain
- Read a classic
- Non-fiction: any kind!

